

Hanover-Ahlem (A12)

From late November 1944 to 6 April 1945, 750 Jewish prisoners had to fortify an asphalt tunnel at the Niedersachsen Engineering Works in Hanover-Ahlem. The arms production of Continental-Gummiwerke AG and Maschinenwerke Niedersachsen was to be moved into this underground tunnel. The men were housed in fenced-off barracks on the grounds of the Continental factory.

Ahlem, 11 April 1945

Prisoners on the day of their liberation by US troops. The photograph was taken by Lieutenant Charles Draper.

Aus: Rainer Fröbe u. a. (Hg.): Konzentrationslager in Hannover, Bd. 2, Hildesheim 1985, Abb. 129.